- Program Changes or Cancellation by the Organization
If the organization significantly alters the program dates, times, location, or content after the refund deadline, and a participant is no longer able or willing to participate, a make-up session would be offered first, with a credit as an alternative. The player and their family are required to respond within 48 hours to clarify their preference. After this 48-hour period, neither a make-up session nor credits will be offered.
- Force Majeure Events
Events outside the organization's control (e.g., natural disasters, pandemics) that lead to program cancellation or significant disruption may result in a make-up session being prioritized. Why 30 days prior to the program/camp for a full refund?

- Within 30 days of the season starting, we do a lot of behind-the-scenes work; not limited to but including: field booking, confirming coaches, registration of teams with the district, scheduling and uniforms. All of this work takes into account each and every player.
